Once upon a time there lived happy folks,
They adored every plant, even held magic talks
With the trees that could be their cozy homes,
And embodied the prettiest of people's hopes!

Lavish trees were as grateful as giving the humans
The air to breathe ...but could nothing bad do with
The progress. The technics so rapidly started
Using the friend's trunk, let me say, simply cut it!

Choking on his bottomless rage a newborn
From the genus of wizzies said: "People, come on!
Let me show you a new way of managing docs,
And you, by the way, don't have to be Docs!

I'll hand you the mathematical formula:
To create limitless copies for all of you
Use my virtual panels instead of your printers!
Just do the experiment! Please go into!

To diminish the climate imbalance
Why not we just face the challenge?
Please, stop deforestation
To save the population

Of fish and birds and any creatures!
Just planting trees can be our feature!
Stop cutting trees!
Could you? Would you? PLEASE!

Stop being helpless!

Go paperless!

Please think twice

before a device

Goes printing and killing a poor green living!!!

Could you?! Would you?! PLEASE!

Begin loving TREES!"
